VOLUME NINE

JUNE 1938

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY HIGH SCHOOL

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
RILEY HIGH SCHOOL
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

Dedication

To Coach Harry Koss and Riley's first Varsity Baseball team, this book is hopefully dedicated. May this sport be a success at Riley, and the boys who play it always uphold the fine ideal and traditions of Baseball, our Great National Game.

From 7:30 to 8:20 a. m.

Everything has a beginning. The theme of this book begins here, and on this page we show you scenes depicting the beginning of a school day. These scenes take place any morning of the year.

It's an early March morning . . . twelve minutes 'til eight, fact. The janitors have been in school since five o'clock building the fires that these seniors who must wait for the eight o'clock bell, may be warm.

And there are two Harrys — Weiss and Herr — truckin' it in, it seems.

Well, well! Would you believe a group of boys would stand around with their hands in their pockets and let a pretty girl carry her books? The Bowman's car has arrived! . . . I wonder where all the boys are?

Can you separate the group at the top of the steps? They must be huddling together to keep warm. The boys at the bottom, bashful as usual; the girls at the top.

Ooooooh . . . Do you remember those cold days? And the snowballs? No standing around now. Let's hurry inside and see if any ears are frost bitten.

Now to the lockers. Annette Gill searches for the Chemistry book, but Kay Walter can't get her locker open. Looks like Warren Ellis and Tom Klausmyer will stage a real fight over that English book — they both want it so badly.

Well, it's really 8 A. M.! The book store is open. Eleanor knows how to start the day's work. See that smile. Bernice's answer over the phone is "Yes, there will be school as usual in spite of the snow!" (There would be.)

From 8:20 to 9:00 a. m.

Here are the home rooms we were able to photograph. Home rooms to schools are like links to a chain—one ceases to be without the other. Here is learned that grand art of associating with, and knowing one another—citizenship if you wish to call it that, but democracy in the making.

Listen, my children, and you shall hear — Monday morning announcements from the lips of Mr. Hawbaker. At least a few in Mr. Koch's room are interested, one is even amused.

Here are Miss Noble's charges; it looks like a full house to us. Miss Kitson's room is spellbound or else they just don't believe that funny-looking contraption is a camera.

Miss Nickel saw to it that their books were open, a good impression to make. These Sophs of Miss Lushbaugh think the camera is an excellent speaker—such rapt attention.

Why, we hardly new you, Mr. Campbell, among all those pretty young faces. Mr. Webb's group finds a lot of interest in the photographer! Who took the picture, anyway?

Mr. Good's group posed in a "Bucket Brigade" lineup: nice effect. . . . Here are Miss Buckley's Junior A's in a family reunion pose—minus the very young and too old. Just right, we think. Fear not, those are not dunce caps in the rear of the room. Just part of the Art Pageant costumes, we presume. This room has been the scene of various activities during the last two months housing preparation for the Art Pageant and an active sponsor group.

Miss Eichholtz and her Senior B's agree on this point of view. Mr. Shafer and his Sophomore A's look content; I wonder what they're getting free? Miss Eichholtz's room seems to be in excellent order in spite of the intense preparations for the Pageant that goes on in it.

Mr. Forbes shows off his bulletin board and, incidentally, his sponsor room. What's this, the cold shoulder? No, Mr. Wiatrowski's group seems to have thawed. Must be some kind of a game they are playing.

Now there seems to be something going on here that's more important than the picture. Wouldn't you think these 7B's of Mr. Good's would give the cameraman more attention since they are the only group to appear twice in this section? This is better from Miss Borg's group. They seem to find us much more tolerable. Nice picture! You bet! And a nice home room, too.

(The staff of the Hoosier Poet regrets that it could not publish a picture of every sponsor room in the building since they are so important in our school life. However, because of the many rooms and the size of the book, this was impossible. Future books, we hope, will be able to include those rooms we were forced to omit.—Ed.)

Classroom scenes—a panorama of the principle functions of school life.

Miss Flora Sanderson's junior high drawing classes hold the coming artists of senior Riley. Work like this poster, being designed for the "Pageant of Art" by Bob Goss, is the result of the Senior advanced art classes.

Arts and Crafts students, designers and creators of varied articles, from leather desk sets to pottery, are under the guidance of Miss Bertha Buckley. These classes are highly popular with the senior pupils and seem to be the source of a great amount of enjoyment as well as instructive information.

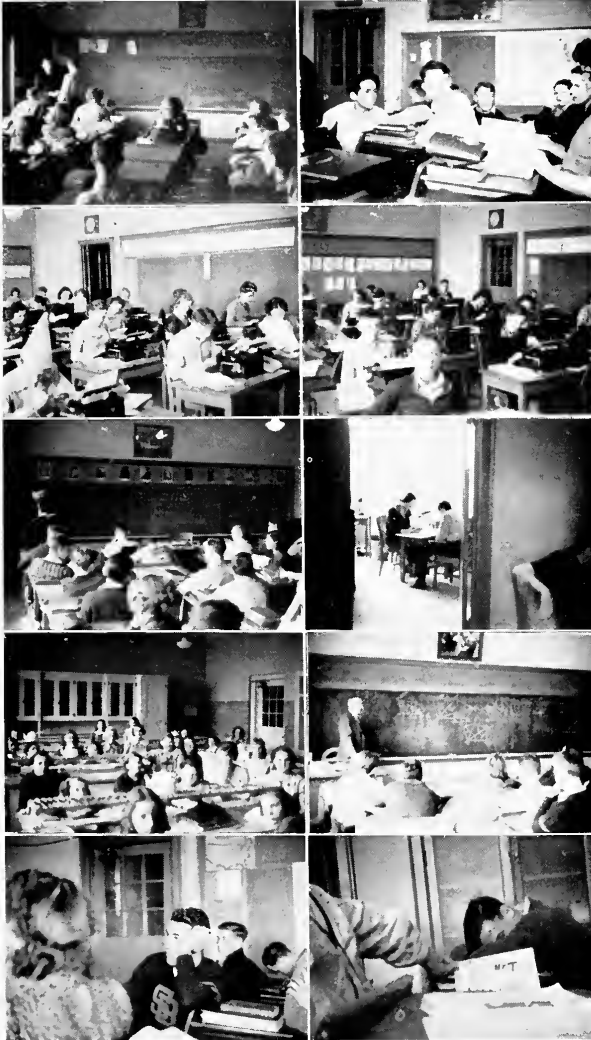

No clock-watchers, these students! They are far too absorbed in their creative work. The hours never seem long enough to get all the work finished in the way desired whether the task pertains to art craft or to the household arts.

Students Helen Haughton and Annette Gill represent clearly (though unconsciously) the avid interest of chemistry students in the numerous experiments. Whether skeptical as to the ability of his pupil or deeply interested in the results of her trial is the reason for the expression of Mr. Carl Schubert we can not tell. Either reason would be logical for Chemistry is an unpredictable subject.

Gym classes are the joy of the high school boy. Here he has the hour of relaxation that takes him away from worries of studies . . . occupied as he is with basketball, Indian wrestling, etc.

Here is a section devoted to the most important and sometimes the most interesting phase of school. In the upper left, it is immediately after lunch, the class is still awake. Mr. Koch is holding forth in his Salesmanship Class. Here are retail salesmen in the making. Looks like one of the students is trying to sell the teacher an article, but then it might be the teacher who is practicing the Art of Selling.

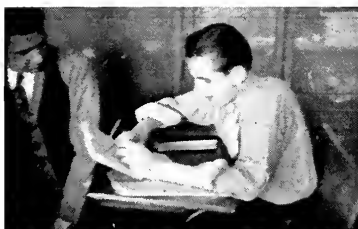

Who is the center of attraction in the next photo? Could it be Ginny Abrams?

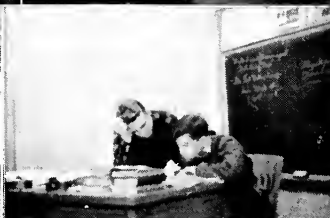

Even typing is not a snap, or so the second row of shots seems to indicate. However, there are fewer classes in school more popular than typing as attested by the crowded conditions during all hours of the day.

Even a dull day does not dull the interest in French, most interesting of interesting classes. Miss Mitchell and her 'client' didn't even suspect a cameraman was around the corner. Who warned the young ladies in foods that they were being photographed? Mr. Stech seems to be making quite an impression on the class by sailing so smoothly through that difficult theorem that had the class at a stand-still. Perhaps the rapt attention given in this class, as well as in other math sections, is one of the reasons why Riley consistently ranks so high in the State Math Contests.

Sociology is an interesting subject, at least some Seniors think so. Mort Kimball gives profound attention to some social problems, but he MIGHT be reminiscing how he skimmed over the hurdles to become state champ in that event at Indianapolis on May 21. Ah, sweet rest! It must be nearing 3:30 on a balmy spring-day. Shall we leave him to his slumber, and go on to the next page.

According to these top views, studying is quite hard and even so much as fatiguing. It also seems that a spirit of cooperation prevails.

Relaxation in the pit and violinist gazes with longing expression at the gay creature behind the "spots." More working together or "looking together."

Yes, Juniors, Physics is hard, just ask D. J. Ketting. Attention such as this deserves praise. Here is an enjoyable activity as well as a strenuous one. The fruit of this hard practicing was a grand performance.

The cameraman disturbs Physics class long enough to catch "Da" get an eyeful of ----- Biology, through a microscope offers much interest as well as simplifying explanation.

Mr. Schubert encounters with difficulties as he tries to show that white light is composed of seven colors. Much contemplation is necessary to produce good results when it comes to the spectroscope.

Man and his machinery. Here are the boys who tame huge steel monsters. These boys will be our future machinists and artisans.

A typical action shot of Miss Kantzer putting the Glee Club through its paces. Caught unawares looking up how the table should be properly set. Caught without the answer, Strycker does his best in the pinch.

From 12 noon to 1 p. m.

With hundreds of students remaining in the building during the winter months, the school found it necessary to provide recreation and entertainment for them. Activities offered seemed to fit the need, too, for the corridors were always quiet and noon classes went smoothly along.

First a general scene in the cafeteria. That is Rosemary Mason giving the camera the glad eye. Next is one of our faculty, Miss Estrich, who has charge of the Drama Club. The following pictures were taken in the girl's gym on days when dancing is in full sway with the phonograph swinging the baton. Here are some of the unluckies who have a class the fourth hour—Ruth White seems to have been writing letters, although it is class time.

We find Ed Modlin showing his "beautiful" face for all the lassies even though his interest should have been towards the stage. This is the room where our more thrifty classmates go to consume their dinners. Bob Kletka finds something amusing in the camera although dinner occupies his neighbor's minds. Miss Kantzer's room is the scene of the next picture where music seems to be ensuing in the form of "chopsticks," with Jim DuBois, Jim Stegman and Jack Rowe as artists superb.

The following scene shows Mr. Bullock supervising a game of Indian wrestling, then Richard (Dicky) Wills wielding the badminton racket. The last scene shows a fast game of Ping Pong in the large gym; this activity usually has a lineup of contestants waiting to show their skill.

This period will continue to be popular because it bolsters up the spirit for the afternoon grind.

AL. LOCHMONDY—This year's basketball captain. He has played three years for Riley and terminates his high school career this June. He was one of the most consistent scorers on the team and also an excellent defensive man. He was high-point man of the season, earning his buckets from a forward position.

DICK GOOD—One of Riley's most valuable players. Dick did not allow a trick knee to prevent his participation in varsity athletic activities. He was also very efficient on the football field, being voted the most valuable player in the N. I. H. S. C.

MAURICE JESSUP—A redheaded senior who proved his worth time and again by consistently breaking up opponent's plays. His cool conduct under fire made him one of the most important and reliable guards in the Riley machine.

CHARLES KEITER—The sophomore sensation who broke into the starting lineup at center in his first year of varsity competition. He was one of the most reliable and dangerous centers ever to enter the center circle for Riley.

JOHN DUNCAN—Riley's most valuable substitute as he was able to play all three positions with remarkable skill. An injured back did not hinder his participation in his favorite sport, basketball. He will return next year.

IRVIN KAJZER—The lanky forward made his presence felt in many a game. His great height proved an invaluable asset to the Riley squad. A consistent scorer, he will return next season.

NORMAN MCDANIELS—A sophomore guard of high promise, Mac started the season as a "B" team player but soon worked his way to the varsity. A remarkable scorer in Junior High, his defensive ability earned him especial recognition. He too should break into next year's starting five.

GENE FISHER—Undoubtedly the star of the "B" team's successful season, he was noticed by Coach McCarnes and promoted to the varsity in time for the sectional. He will return next season and will undoubtedly prove to be one of the team's most consistent players.

CHARLES DAWSON—A little known but highly talented guard who entered Riley in his senior year from Washington-Clay. He could always be depended upon to go in and do his very best to push Riley ahead in the fray. His sportsmanship was admired by all.

RAYMOND NEMETH—"Punch" hails from River Park. He preped at Nuner and suffered two injured ankles during the season at Riley which seriously hampered his advance. He will also be back next year.

DICK MCCOMBS—Dick's rapid improvement plus his determination to reach the top made him one of the ranking players on the Riley squad. His personality plus his excellent sportsmanship placed him among Riley's better known athletes. He is a senior graduating in June and his absence will be deeply felt.

To COACH ROBERT MCCARNES goes exceptional praise for the manner in which he handled the team during his first year as head coach. The coming seasons look bright for successful teams under his tutelage.

COACH ROBERT MCCARNES

VARSITY BASKETBALL

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

After spirited elimination rounds conducted by Miss Snyder and Miss Chapleau, the five girls' basketball teams pictured above fought it out for the school championship, the honor finally going to Lois Phillip's team, upper right. Personnel of the teams are, upper left, Elvira Chillik's team: M. Baumbach, N. Hoff, V. Holmes, E. Close, E. Chillik, D. Miller. Lower left, Barbara Kronewitter's team (rear): J. Zubrits, J. Epperson, M. Jones, F. Csneer, C. Frazier, A. L. Reed, (front), C. Nagy, E. Barkly, B. Kronewitter, L. Vitale, B. Put. Center, Anna Hopkin's team (rear): H. Hoglund, A. Hopkins, L. Skillern, (front), V. Vitale, L. Phillips, E. Snyder. Lower right, Evelyn Siddles' team (rear): E. Bucher, D. Spillman, M. Feaser, G. Stape, D. Shreves, (front), R. Bonjorm, A. Visick, E. Siddles, S. Rogers.

State Champions

Congratulations to Miss Kinerk and her Varsity golfers in bringing Riley her second conference championship in the sports field during the year. The team captured the title at LaPorte on May 16, finishing eleven strokes ahead of the Michigan City golfers who took second. This year's victory gives Riley its fifth conference title in golf during the past six years, all being won under the tutelage of Miss Kinerk. In team play to date the squad has won matches from Washington, Plymouth, Mishawaka, Michigan City, Niles and Valparaiso, losing only to LaPorte. They won the state meet at Indianapolis on May 21!

Because of poor weather during most of the early part of the outdoor season, the track squad was off to a late start. With better weather, they improved rapidly and turned in some fine performances winning a dual meet from Michigan City, and finishing fifth in the sectional. Kimball in the low hurdles and Jessup in the pole vault won their event qualifying for the state finals at Indianapolis on May 21. With the interest track has received recently, Coach Wood has hopes of building a strong track squad at Riley in the coming seasons.

Football

COACH WOOD

These snaps show some of Woodie's boys doing their daily dozens for spring drill. The first picture shows some of the boys doing a little "scrapping." The next shot represents the future forward wall that should be able to mow 'em down well. In number 3 we see some fancy running by Haines. Next we see the Riley Coaching Staff, and of course we all know the picture-stealers. Ross Stephenson hands out some strategy—some good stuff, too. The backfield you see here, Bell, Stephenson, Knapp and Firtl will do plenty mail carrying for the Cats. In the small picture we see "Dippy" Evans showing his running ability. In the last picture we see the lads that brought the Eastern Division Championship to Riley.

With a conference championship team gone with graduation, Head Coach Forrest Wood apparently faces a hard task in moulding a strong Wildcat eleven for next fall. Four weeks of intensive spring practice disclosed some capable reserve material that may work in with his few returning seniors, but only time can definitely give the answer. Coach Koss must build practically two new forward walls. The team will be light, and fairly fast. Opposing Conference teams appear strong.

Sept. 10, Hammond Tech.; Sept. 17, Scott of Toledo; Sept. 23, LaPorte; Oct. 2, Niles; Oct. 9, Elkhart; Oct. 16, Open; Oct. 23, Michigan City; Oct. 28, Washington; Nov. 4, Central; Nov. 11, Mishawaka.

Baseball

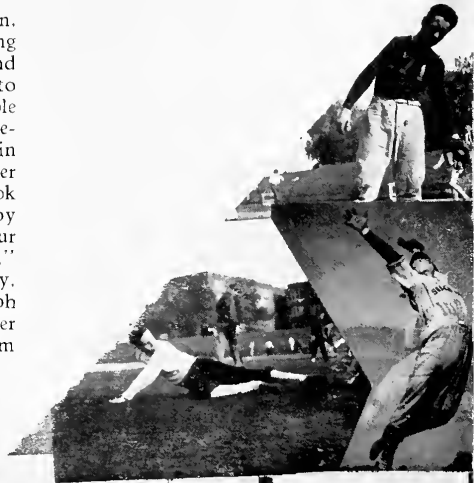

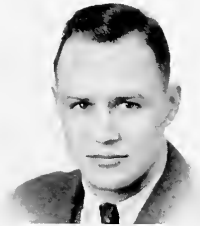

The coming of the spring sport season found baseball at Riley for the first time as a Varsity sport. Being new, the material looked green, and after a starting varsity team was assembled, it gave the appearance of being only a fair club. However, team play and hitting improved considerably while the team was dropping its first games, and then it turned in a fine victory over Nappanee, 3-2, on May 18. Coach Koss did a fine job and with Mr. Hoyles's able assistance brought the team along rapidly. Only two seniors graduate this June. Next season's prospects look fine.

Riley 0, Bremen 1; Riley 2, Central 10; Riley 3, Washington 9; Riley 4, LaPorte 5; Riley 12, Faculty 4; Riley 3, Nappanee 2; Riley 2, Bremen 1.

In the first shot we see Phil Simpson, second-sacker for the Wildcats, posing with a ball in his glove. The second photo, our mysterious figure sliding into second base, furnishes us a good example of how sliding should be done. The graceful backward swandive being performed in the third picture further furnishes us with another good example of how to make them look hard. The Lou Gehrig stance and Gabby Hartnett crouch are demonstrated in our fourth photo. The incomparable "John," is showing how to hit into a double play. Fisher catching. Individual shots of Ralph Frick, Norman McDaniels, Gene Fisher and Harry Kraft complete our new album of familiar faces.

COACH KOSS

BARBARA KANTZER

Robed Choir

Again we turn our attention to the Robed Choir and the Glee Club.

The club under the excellent direction of Miss Barbara Kantzer has ever maintained an ideal for the finest in music and music appreciation.

The club is ready at any time to offer its services for any of the school's activities and P. T. A. meetings. Also, it has made many outside appearances at churches, clubs, Orphan's Home—a WSBT broadcast and a number of other places.

Not only did the Glee Club present the operetta, "The Fire Prince," this semester but three splendid assembly programs of inspiring music. These assemblies gave occasion for several students to direct this mass group of students before an audience. As guest soloist Henry Trzcinski, former member of the Glee Club, was present.

Many critics have hailed this Choir as the finest Miss Kantzer has ever put together. On June 3, they gave their farewell concert of the year in the auditorium before hundreds of South Bend's music lovers. The gala program sung was:

Now is the Month of Maying	Morley	Cherubim Song	Bortniansky
The Pedlar	Williams	In the Time of Roses	Reichardt
Czecho Slovakian Dance Song	Arr. Krone	Listen to the Lambs	Dett
A Violin is Singing in the Street		Fairest Lord Jesus	12th Century Crusader's Hymn
	Ukranian Folk Song	Sanctus	Gounod
A Bone Jesu	Palestrina	Tingle-Ingling from "High Jinks"	Friml
Adoramus te	Palestrina	Italian Street Song from "Naughty Marietta"	Herbert
Now Let All the Heavens Adore Thee	Bach
Haspodi Pomilui	Lvovsky	Solo by BETTY MOW AND DORIS BUNCH
Alleluia! Christ is Risen	Kopolyoff	Rain and River	Fox
With Joyful Song	Schedov

ALMA MATER

The Orchestra

The Riley Senior Orchestra, under the direction of Percy H. Riggs, reached the peak of its success this year. The orchestra now has a membership of almost fifty students who indeed have shown a keen desire for the finest quality of music and musicianship.

A group of the orchestra was picked last fall to play with the North Central Orchestra under the direction of Mr. George Dasch. The Riley Orchestra was well represented in this group both in musicianship and numbers, many of them holding first chairs on the stage.

The orchestra also played for "The Patsy," "Smilin' Through" and "Nothing But the Truth." A selected string ensemble played at the Oliver Hotel for the boy scout convention. This group also played for the operetta, "The Fire Prince."

The orchestra played a joint concert with the band at the Progress Club, April 22. They gave their annual concert May 6th in the school auditorium. They played for commencement exercises at Washington-Clay May 6, and at Centre May 7.

There have been several string groups established in the orchestra. Among them is the String Quartet, consisting of Virginia Stevens, Helen Deen, Mary Walz and Betty Walz. This group has played for assemblies, P. T. A. meetings and banquets, and they broadcast over WSBT.

In the repertoire of the orchestra is the famous "Mississippi Suite" by Ferinand Gravet, the "Second Symphony" by Josef Hayden, the always favorite "Narcissus" by Ethelbert Nevins and "Andante and Gavatte" by George Dasch.

The officers of the orchestra are: President, Helen Deen; Vice President, Virginia Stevens, who is also concert mater; Secretary-Treasurer, Edward Modlin, and Librarian, Donabelle Hively.

PERCY H. RIGGS

The Band

The Riley Senior Band, under the able direction of Mr. Percy H. Riggs, has been busy since last fall giving many performances.

During the fall they thrilled the spectators at the football game with many new steps and lighted caps. The band journeyed to Elkhart and Toledo to display new steps at both games. At the Central-Riley football game the American Legion of River Park presented the band with the American flag and the Riley School flag. The band made several fine performances at the Studebaker Cavalcade Convention.

Working hard to inspire the basketball team and spectators was the newly organized Boys' Pep Band. This organization, under the able direction of Charles Farmer, added color and enthusiasm to the home basketball games. It was made up of approximately twenty boys whose earnest effort helped it to succeed.

At the beginning of the second semester Dana Mock was selected student director to assist Mr. Riggs. There was a great deal in store for both the marching and concert band. January 7, the concert band broadcast over WSBT from the Central High School Auditorium. March 25, the entire marching and concert band played for the annual Outdoor Show. The band played their annual concert at the Grace M. E. Church, April 8. They played at the Progress Club April 22, and their annual concert in the Riley Auditorium May 4.

On May 11, the band went to Lafayette for the state commandary contest. On May 14, came the Blossom Parade at St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, Mich., an event which every member looked forward to with eagerness.

The band also played for the home baseball games, and the Used Car Parade and the City Wide Pageant.

In the repertoire of the band this year was the "Stephen Foster Selection" given to the band by the Stephen Foster Foundation, the famous Franz Schubert "Unfinished Symphony," a modern classical number, "Deep Purple," by Peter DeRose, and the well known "L'Apprenti Sorcier Scherzo," by Paul Dukas.

The curtain comes down on another very successful year in the history of the Riley High School Band.

Operetta "Fire Prince"

The long-awaited production, "The Fire Prince," by the Glee Club, was an outstanding success of the year. "The Fire Prince" — even to mention the name brings back many delightful and colorful memories. "With flashing sword and courage high—" can you not see those dazzling swords, the masses of brilliantly colored whirling skirts and hear those many youthful voices soaring to exulting heights?

Indeed much praise is due the Glee Club and their director, Miss Barbara Kantzer, for such a splendid presentation of this ancient fairy tale.

Because of the large number in the Glee Club only those persons taking acting parts in the cast with solo selections were placed on the stage. However, the large chorus in the orchestra pit were invaluable to those on the stage in making the operetta a fine success.

The cast included: Damon Warner as the 'Fire Prince.' Damon's fine quality tenor voice added much to the production. Robert Rudig and Virginia Abrahms as the king and queen displayed exceptional acting ability in comedy roles; James Stegman and Arthur Regan as Don Roderigo and Frederic, respectively, gave fine performances as also did Bill Colip and Charles Witham. Bill Stevens as Enrico and Norman Keifer as Alphonso added that bit of romance that is necessary with Donna Bryant playing Kathleen and Shirley Dygert, Molenda, as their fair ladies. Betty Leiser, a newcomer to the Riley stage, gave evidence of both dramatic and singing ability in her role as the Duchess. To complete an exceptionally fine cast, comes Betty Mow and Doris Bunch with the beauty of their already famed soprano voices in the roles of Rosa and Theresa.

All in all, we say congratulations to Miss Kantzer and her Glee Club for such an enjoyable operetta.

MISS ESTRICH

Senior Drama Club

The Senior Drama Club of Riley High School has been unusually successful this year in establishing its purpose, to create and develop interest in dramatics, throughout the student body.

The annual Drama Club production was that world famous comedy-drama by Allan Langdon Martin, "Smilin' Through."

This fantastic comedy which combines all the romance and fantasy of the powerful love-drama and all the glittering humor of the rollicking comedy piece won instant success by its wistful appeal and sincere charm.

The leads were taken by such well known players as Robert Rudig, Jack Burke, Eileen Davis, Patricia Felix, Gene Palmer and William DeBard; while Myrtle Horning, Jeanne Weaver, Loreen Swisher, Louise Hudson, William Zeigert added much to the success of the presentation.

The members of the Drama Club attended the second of the annual Drama Club Banquets in May. It was truly one of the finest banquets held throughout the year. The members and the faculty were delighted to have as their honor guest, Miss Elaine McDavitt, formerly a teacher of speech in Riley and sponsor of the Drama Club. She came to the banquet from Detroit, Michigan, where she is now teaching in a girls' school. Robert Rudig was toastmaster. Entertainment was provided by members of the club.

The Senior Drama Club is losing twenty-two members with the graduating class of this June. However, they are fortunate in having a number of talented members left to carry on—those who have been in the club for some time and the eighteen new members who successfully passed the latest try-outs of the club.

All honors go to Miss Estrich and Mr. Umble under whose priceless leadership anything the club undertakes will most assuredly be a success.

Officers of this semester are: Penn Skillern, President; Patricia Felix, Vice President; Eileen Davis, Secretary-Treasurer.
